Jacobson, Alger County Clerk, 2nd Vice President; Hazel Berg, Muskegon County Clerk, Secretary, and Lucille M. Kolarick, Leelanau County Clerk, Treasurer.

Wednesday, the 8th of July, is the big day when speakers from the State and Naturalization Bureau will be present to give addresses throughout the day.

The program is not as yet completed, however it will be ready in detail for next week's issue.

Gaylord's Outdoor Festival June 26-28

The Gaylord Festival committee has developed a program for the third annual Outdoor Festival that eclipses any like program ever arranged for the north, with some of the foremost talent to be found in the central states taking part in the dedication of the opening of the Lakes Season in Michigan.

Below is a short outline of the program, that will serve as a criterion to the high quality of entertainment, and activities that permit the participation of every visitor:

Friday morning will be devoted to registration. The fishing contests will begin, and everyone is eligible.

Friday afternoon there will be personally conducted tours through the woods and forest, over well marked trails, taking you to the Elk Herd, Conservation Headquarters, etc.

Golfing at the Gaylord Country Club and lake and stream fishing.

In the evening, at 7:45 there will be a band concert. This will be followed with the boxing bouts, between the boxing teams of Cheboygan and Alpena. Eight bouts are on the card.

Early Saturday morning there will be more fishing. This contest closes at noon and the catches will be exhibited at the headquarters which will be decorated and have exhibitions of all kinds of fish native to Michigan, as well as many foreign species.

Awarding of fishing prizes at one o'clock. $100 in prizes to be awarded.

Curley Moulton will begin his exhibition work at 2 o'clock, which will be well worth seeing.

The Juvenile parade, featuring the children of the north, will be held at 2:30. This affair was one of the main features in the festival last year and brings out a lot of talent, both in comedy and beauty.

For the first time, dog trials will be held this year, by popular demand. These trials will be conducted at the Gaylord Country Club, just a half mile south of town. Anyone having a good coon dog is invited to enter. Cash prizes will be awarded. Ben East, Outdoor editor of the Booth papers will give a vivid description of the work of the hounds.

Another band concert will be held at 7:30.

At 9:30 the Queen's coronation

Legion Jottings

The Auxiliary, for their social meeting Tuesday evening, entertained members of the Prudenville Auxiliary, the latter who put on initiation work. The following ladies are now full-fledged members: Mrs. Mollie Bosworth, Mrs. Charles Moore, Mrs. Floyd Taylor and Mrs. Fred Tatro. Closing the evening a dainty lunch was served.

The drum and bugle corps will go to Gaylord next Sunday to participate in the Bass Festival parade and spend the day.

The Drum and Bugle Corps went to the golf links last Monday evening for drilling and had a good practice.

All members of the Drum & Bugle Corps are requested to be out tonight for final drilling before going away, so be there!

Every member of the Drum Corps is requested to be at the Legion hall next Monday evening as it is very important that you attend.

The American Legion Junior baseball team went down to West Branch last Friday afternoon to take on that team but were defeated by the score of 20 to 4. Our boys did not play as good as they did the two previous games and had several errors they had tucked away cropped out, but for all that they offer no excuses as West Branch was just too much that day. Robert Hanson started the twirling for Grayling and was relieved by Wm. Eschappelle, and then Dewey Coutts, but the game was lost in the earlier innings and although the pitching was better, too many errors piled up more runs.

The local American Legion Junior League will cross bats with the Gladwin boys next Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This game will be hard fought as our team will try and displace the league leaders at this game. We would like to see a large attendance at this game and we ask at this time for the public to come out and give the boys your support. Don't forget, this Friday, at 3 P. M.!!!

will be held at the gymnasium. Ben East, being the master of ceremonies. Following the coronation will come the Queen's Ball at the same place, on a floor especially prepared for the occasion, which will accommodate 500 couples, besides a thousand spectators. Don Kaye and his internationally famous orchestra will provide the music. In connection with his organization, there will be a "blues" singer. This is the finest musical organization ever brought into northern Michigan.

Sunday morning is dedicated to the churches.

Beginning at 1 o'clock the fly and bait casting tournaments will start for both plug and fly.

Another feature this year is the Archery Contest. Fred Baer, president of the Michigan Archery Association, will have charge. The Michigan archery champions will give an exhibition.

At three o'clock comes the "Parade of the Great Outdoors," with floats and bands from many of the neighboring cities and towns participating. Anyone with a float, car or stunt that will contribute to the publicity value to his locality, is urged to enter this parade.

Dog trials will again be held at 4:30, and scenic tours from 5 until 7, thus ending what is confidently believed to be the biggest and most complete outdoor festival ever held in the north.

Announce Dates Of Army Maneuvers

PRE-MANEUVER CONFERENCE IN GRAYLING IN JULY

Many important details, for which troops have been impatiently waiting, have just been announced with reference to the Second Army maneuvers.

All units of the Michigan National Guard, except the two regiments of artillery, will train from Aug. 8 to Aug. 22. The 119th and 182d field artillery regiments will train from Aug. 9-23. The entire 32d Division, including Wisconsin units, will concentrate near East Saugatuck.

The 33d (Illinois) division will concentrate at the same time in the vicinity of Pennsylvania, about 7 miles distant from the 32d area. From August 8 and 9, the troops will remain in their camp areas, the maneuver not actually commencing until the night of Aug. 12th or the morning of the 13th. It will end on the 18th or 19th and all troops will then be trucked to Camp Custer for return to home stations. The 182d F. A. will be attached to the 32d Division for administrative purposes only and on its arrival at East Saugatuck will be moved to the Corps control area.

In preparation for the maneuver, General Wilson has called a conference of the entire 32d Division staff at Chicago on June 28th. This conference will be attended by all of the Wisconsin divisional staff contingent.

Another pre-maneuver conference will take the form of a miniature encampment at Camp Grayling over a week end in July, the dates not as yet having been set.

Tents for all officers will be erected in the club house area and the conferences will start on Saturday evening and continue until noon on Sunday, when officers will be dismissed and camp broken. Detailed orders and instructions are now being prepared and will be published and distributed to all units shortly.

Teacher Killed In Auto Accident

TWO OTHERS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Three teachers, enroute to Topinabee, Mullet Lake, were victims of a tire blow-out Monday afternoon which caused their car to take several somersaults, completely demolishing its top. One occupant was thrown against a telephone pole and died soon after. The other two were thrown violently to the sides of the highway, and seriously injured.

Miss Mamie St. George, died in the ambulance before reaching the hospital here. Her neck was broken. She was a teacher in a college at Des Moines, Ia. Remains were taken to Monmouth, Ill. for burial.

Miss Evelyn Dilly, a teacher in Cleveland, suffered fracture of seven ribs and other lesser injuries.

Miss Virginia Burkhart, another Cleveland school teacher, received a fractured pelvis from the accident. The injured teachers are in Grayling Mercy hospital and it is reported that they are getting along nicely.

The three teachers had rented a cottage at Topinabee, where they evidently intended to spend their summer vacations together.

It was a most unfortunate affair. We are sure these teachers are receiving as excellent care and surgical attention as they could in their own city of Cleveland. We hope for their quick recovery, and sympathize in their misfortune.

G. Rapids Pageant Romance of Furniture

The Avalanche office is in possession of an engrossed invitation from the Grand Rapids Centennial Furniture Festival committee to attend the celebration of their first centennial of the making of furniture for use in American homes. It is handsomely printed on a sheet 12 x 15 inches in size in Engravers Old English style. It is beautifully done and has the appearance of having been made especially for Grayling. It was presented Wednesday morning at the time of the visit by members of the Grand Rapids Association of Commerce and other civic organizations, and reads as follows:

To the People and Government of Grayling, Michigan.

Greetings:

The people of Grand Rapids, its city government and civic institutions cordially invite the people of Grayling to share with Grand Rapids in the celebration of its first Centennial in the making of furniture for use in American Homes.

This celebration will consist of a mammoth parade on the evening of July 7 in which you are invited to participate with a float or with such representation as best would suit your desires. The principal feature of the Centennial will be the presentation at Houseman Field in Grand Rapids of a great pageant, "Romance of Furniture," to which you are cordially invited. This spectacle will consist of a colorful visualization of the making of furniture from the earliest man to the present day. It will be an entertaining, inspiring and educational undertaking.

Grand Rapids would feel honored to have Grayling share with our city in these festivities and in a contemplation of the renown which Grand Rapids has earned for itself in providing for the comfort and beauty of the home.

Grand Rapids Centennial Furniture Festival Committee.

CAMPS ENJOY WHEELER LECTURE

More than six hundred CCC enrollees, Army Officers, and Forestry Officers from Camps Higgins Lake, AuSable, Ogemaw, Fife Lake, and Kalkaska and the side camp at Camp Pioneer, heard H. N. Wheeler, Chief Lecturer of the U. S. Forest Service voice a ringing plea for a better understanding of our woods and wildlife, and for eternal vigilance against the destructive forest fires, at Hanson Military Reservation Tuesday night of last week.

Pointing to the fact that less than one-third of Michigan's area is under cultivation or in pasture, Mr. Wheeler affirmed that the remainder must again be clothed with the timber which covered the state before the era of the despoiling lumbermen.

In his lecture, illustrated with 150 colored slides, the veteran forester explained the three-fold uses of the forests—to furnish wood, to prevent erosion and protect water-sheds, and to provide recreation for the millions of nature-lovers of our country.

Mayor Olsen opened the meeting with a warm welcome in behalf of the city. He was followed by Capt. A. M. Niemz, commanding the 4th Forestry Sub-District of Michigan, who introduced the commanding officers of attending camps. N. L. MacDonald of the Michigan Emergency Conservation field office

Mrs. Hugo Schreiber Passed Away

Mrs. Hugo Schreiber, pioneer resident of Crawford County, passed away Friday evening, June 19, after several months illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Christenson. She was eighty years of age and the last survivor of a family of ten children.

Agnes Oesterle Schreiber was born September 6, 1855, in Wurttemberg, Germany, at the foot-hills of the Schwartzwalt mountains, where her father owned and operated a sawmill.

Members of her family began migrating to America in 1870 and she followed them the following year, at the age of 16; taking up her residence at Jackson, Michigan.

On February 8, 1875, she became the bride of Hugo G. Schreiber, of that city. To this union seven children were born, who are known as Mrs. Rufus Edmonds, Frederic; Hugo Schreiber Jr., Mrs. Frank Serven, and Mrs. William Christenson, Grayling; William Schreiber, Dearborn; George Schreiber, deceased, formerly of Dearborn; Herman Schreiber, of Long Branch, New Jersey.

Five years after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Schreiber moved to Crawford county, where they took up a homestead nine miles east of Grayling and located near the AuSable river, which was then known as Grove Township. From that time until the death of her husband in 1934 Mrs. Schreiber made her home at that place, except for three years when the family resided at Bay City.

After the death of her husband, on June 5, 1934, Mrs. Schreiber made her home largely with her daughters, Mrs. Christenson and Mrs. Serven, of this city.

Mrs. Schreiber was a very devoted mother. She cherished her home and family and was in turn loved by her children, who were ever ready to minister to her needs and to look after her comforts. Her friendly smile and thoughtfulness will be missed by her relatives and many friends.

Funeral services were held Monday, June 22, with a short prayer at the Christenson home where relatives and a few friends were gathered, after which services were held at the Michelson Memorial church. Rev. Edgar Flory officiated.

Two vocal duets were beautifully rendered by Mrs. June Underwood and Mrs. Herbert Gothro, who sang, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Abide With Me," accompanied by Mrs. C. G. Clippert. A profusion of beautiful floral pieces filled the front part of the church, tokens of many friends. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest beside those of her husband. Dan Hoelsi, Dan Babbitt, Junior Wakeley, Ernest Babbitt, John Knecht, and Charles Corwin, acted as pallbearers.

Members of the Crawford County Grange, of which she had been a loyal member practically ever since it was organized, attended the services in a body.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were: Mrs. Ernest Bohnet, and George and Herman Bohnet, Lansing;

Mr. and Mrs. Well Turner, Charlotte; Mrs. John Scheurer and Miss Marie Collister, Mason; Herman Schreiber, Long Branch, New Jersey; Mr. and Mrs. William Schreiber, Dearborn; Mrs. Emma Ellsworth, Jackson; Mrs. Martha Holliday, Mrs. Turner, St. Helen; Frank Schreiber, Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Edmonds Jr., Mrs. Andrew McGuire, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer VanNatter and children, Cadillac; Mrs. Gideon Croteau, Bay City, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bloetcher and son and George Rupert, Detroit.

The Avalanche joins the many friends in extending sympathy to the family in their great bereavement.

Grand Rapids Men Visit Grayling

Grayling was included in the stops of the 3rd West Michigan Out-Of-Doors tour by Grand Rapids civic organizations Wednesday forenoon. Traveling in two Greyhound busses and large covered baggage truck, the caravan arrived here at 8:40 a. m., coming from Johnson's Rustic tavern, Houghton Lake, where they had spent the night.

Grand Rapids was represented in this tour by 40 business and industrial men and eight newspaper reporters. Among the newspapers represented were the Grand Rapids Herald and Grand Rapids Press, western Michigan newspapers; Cincinnati Times Star; Chicago Daily News; Chicago Tribune; Indianapolis News; Louisville Courier, Journal & Times, and the Toledo Blade.

The tour was sponsored for the purpose of presenting to the newspaper men accompanying the tour party a first hand opportunity to see and enjoy the vacation possibilities of Western Michigan so that they may tell the hundreds of thousands of readers of their newspapers and thus encourage them to come to West Michigan to spend their vacations.

Also to afford the business men of Grand Rapids and the business men of the towns and resorts visited an opportunity to become better acquainted so that we can work together most harmoniously for the development of Western Michigan.

The stop in Grayling was about 10 minutes and was hardly time to derive even a faint idea of the resort and recreational attractions in this region. There are so many places of interest around Grayling it would require a full day to pay them it would be quite impossible for the newspaper representatives to get much of an inspiration for a story about our resorts, famous trout streams, fine lakes and other attractions. We hope that the next time the tour is scheduled to come to Grayling that the managers will include us in a whole day visit. That would be worth while and make it possible to do justice to the effort put forth to learn "first hand" what Crawford county has to offer vacationists.

Kalkaska was the next city to be visited after leaving Grayling.

THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1936

THREE youngsters, each 16 years old, of Ann Arbor, got into trouble that ended their vacation festivities for the season. While awaiting arrival of their canoes for a trip down the Big Manistee river last week Friday, they amused themselves by breaking into a couple of cottages. It is reported that the boys had revolvers and rifles and in order to get into one cottage, they shot off the lock. Once inside, the report continues, they shot up the building, finding electric bulbs particularly attractive. Discovering a quantity of coffee, and canned milk they prepared and ate their lunch and had a generally good time. They were apprehended, however, and brot before our probate court. The cottage owners and the boys' parents were notified. Damages and court costs were paid in full and the boys placed under probation for one year. These boys, it is said, are from good homes and they had plenty of money on hand with which to pay the expenses of their vacations, but it seemed that they hadn't learned the lesson of respecting other people's property. They were "on their own" and seemed to want to cut loose, and they had revolvers contrary to law. The boys have good home reputations and never before had got into trouble. Can anyone explain why apparently normal 16 year old boys can be so dumb as to pull such a reckless prank. And can one imagine the embarrassment they brot home to their parents.

SUMMER RESIDENTS and summer tourists are rapidly appearing on the scene and soon Grayling will again become an active summer vacation center. The usual Grayling hospitality signs will be in evidence everywhere in the way of friendly and cordial greetings. This is a splendid characteristic of the people of this community, and, not intending to appear mercenary, is a principle that pays good dividends. These visitors long remember the friendliness of the people in the communities they visit. They will want to come again and will induce others to do the same. Let us build onto the reputation Grayling now enjoys as a place of friendly hospitality. Let's take time to assist visitors to find what they desire and point out to them some of our places of interest that might otherwise be missed. This is everybody's job and we'll find it a pleasant one.

TRADING AT HOME has always been one of our hobbies. That's one of the ways we can increase business in our local stores. When merchants become convinced that our citizens are to remain loyal to local stores, these merchants can, with confidence, carry larger and better lines of merchandise, and possibly offer lower prices. Merchants too can help this situation by carrying larger stocks and by thus working together, business in Grayling is certain to increase. Grayling has a number of excellent stores and progressive merchants. Movements for the betterment of Grayling finds these men and women ready to cooperate by personal service and by their finances. We believe that trading at home pays good community dividends.

SOUTH AMERICAN BAND WILL PLAY AT RUSTIC

Saturday, June 27th, the Rustic will introduce the finest orchestra ever to play in this part of the country.

Maldonado and his South Americans bring their rhumba band to Johnson's Rustic Dance palace to begin its 1936 summer season with the most unusual and talented orchestra ever to play in its history.

It has been known for some time that Mr. Johnson had been negotiating with this group but nothing definite had been heard until yesterday.

Maldonado's South Americans are coming direct from San Antonio, Texas, the only other spot in the United States they have played, and bring to the Rustic the real genuine Tango and Rhumba.

Also beginning on Saturday there will be free dancing from 9:00 to 9:30 and no doubt many will take advantage of this new novelty.

Down Stream

By H. B. Smith, III

Cold nights and windy days have continued to make the fishing poor, and there have been few good catches lately. That well-known guide, Jack Redhead, has kept up with his reputation by hauling in thirteen beauties on the still water last Friday. It is rumored that photographers from the Detroit News, Times, and Free Press are after a picture of the fish.

Last week-end there were many boats and waders on the stream, however not many fish were being caught. Although the caddis hatch has reached Grayling, it has not given the fishermen farther down any action. As soon as the nights become warmer, good night-fishing is expected. Although there have been some bad days on the stream this year, the fishing has been unusually good. Mr. Peterson, who is in charge of the Grayling hatchery, states that the AuSable rates with the first three trout streams in Michigan, and that the fishing this year is much better than it was last year at this time.

Last Friday, Walt Shaw had the misfortune of losing his boat and motor, which floated down stream (the motor in the boat) early in the morning. After a speedy paddle in a canoe, Walt recovered his boat and ran it back to his cabin. A more unfortunate thing than this was the stealing of Roger Kneff's fishing rod from the back porch of the Knight cabin. We hope that there will be no more such incidents along the river or anywhere else.

The deer seem more numerous than ever this year, and one can see many of them by taking a trip down the river. It is said that the cold winter has driven some down from the upper peninsula but a wise guide knows that they have been here all the time.

We believe that we can rightfully call Arthur Wakeley the old man of the river. He still looks as spry as a spring chicken and can still be seen fishing along the river. We hope he will live up to his title for many more years.

Next Thursday there should be some better news of the fishing and with the resorters coming from all over the country, there should be more news and more things happening. We are informed that Walter Winchell is after this job.

Golf Club Notes....

For the first inter-club tournament of the season, Grayling had as their guests the members of the Gaylord Country club. The visitors brot 17 players, who were matched by 17 of our own players. The tournament resulted in a victory for Grayling. The score was Grayling 28, and Gaylord 17. There were several scores in the 80s. The lowest score was held by Stanley Breaghu who turned in an 80. George Olson had an 85; Emil Kraus 86; and Fr. Herr 88, all of Grayling, and Buzz Murray of Gaylord, 88.

"A LITTLE NONSENSE NOW AND THEN—"

I had twelve bottles of whiskey in my cellar. My wife told me to empty the contents of each and every bottle down the sink "or else", so I said I would and proceeded with the unpleasant task.

I withdrew the cork from the first bottle and poured the contents down the sink, with the exception of one glass, which I drank. I extracted the cork from the second bottle and did likewise, with the exception of one glass which I drank. I then pulled the cork from the third bottle and emptied the good old booze down the sink except a glass which I drank. I pulled the cork from the fourth sink and poured the bottle down the glass, which I drank. I pulled the bottle from the cork of the next and drank one sink out of it and poured the rest down the glass. I pulled the sink out of the next glass and poured the cork down the bottle. I pulled the next cork out of my throat and poured the sink down the bottle and drank the glass. Then I corked the sink with one glass, bottled the drink and drank the pour.

When I had everything emptied, I steadied the house with one hand, counted the bottles and corks and glasses with the other, which were twenty-nine. To be sure, I counted them again when they came by, and I had twenty-four. As the house came by, I counted them again and finally had the houses and bottles and corks and glasses counted, except one house and one bottle, which I drank, and I told my wife to go to Hell.

ARMIES OF ANTS RAIDING PANTRIES

Michigan State College Bulletin Explains Methods of Keeping Foods Under Control

Only two things are certain and those two things are death and taxes, one philosopher once said. But many Michigan households have come to expect spring and summer to also make certain the raiding forages of ants in the cupboards and food containers.

Even if the pests do not enter the home, they may cause damage or unsightly conditions in lawns, in fields or gardens or on trees. Professor E. I. McDaniel of the department of entomology at Michigan State College, has prepared Extension Bulletin No. 166, "Ant Control in Houses and on Lawns." The bulletin is available through the Bulletin Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

In brief form the simple practices which will control ants include two types of poisons for use against the armies that attempt to march into the home. For ants that are after sweets, Miss McDaniel suggests using dry poison sugar, liquid poison or powders such as fluorine compounds, pyrethrum or borax. The household "grease feeders" can be handled an enticing control of dry poison worked into grease, or commercial bait.

In fields and gardens, control by cultivation or crop rotation. Ants on trees should be treated with contact sprays of nicotine sulphate, pyrethrum or derris. On lawns the control is with contact sprays, liquid baits, carbon disulphide or cyanide.

The bulletin presents a picture of ant organization and the anti-organization work necessary to use the above materials for their control.

HAY FEVER

Mrs. R. E. H. inquires about the cause and treatment of hay fever. Hay fever is an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose, accompanied by sneezing and the production of large amounts of a watery secretion. It is not infectious but the tendency to the malady may be inherited. Persons subject to asthma also may be afflicted with hay fever. Both conditions are caused by dust and the various pollens in the air.

There is a definite seasonal incidence because approximately 75 per cent of the trouble may be traced to the pollen of some plant. Pollen is a very fine, dust-like material which appears when various weeds or plants, including trees, blossom. It is spread by wind and insects.

Hay fever, beginning before May 1, usually is due to tree pollen. The hay fever of May and June may be caused by plants and grasses and, especially, by dandelions and the daisy. When the trouble appears in the autumn, such plants as ragweed and goldenrod may be responsible.

It is essential in treating the condition that the physician know what variety of pollen is causing the trouble. When the patient's susceptibility is known, measures may be taken to protect him from subsequent attacks. In certain cases, such measures are of little avail, and the individual is advised to quit the locality for a time.

Sensitivity to a certain pollen may be determined by a series of tests, made with various pollen extracts, on the patient's skin. Desensitization may then be carried out by the injection of minute doses of pollen to the point that reactions fail to appear and hay fever does not occur.

Since considerable time is necessary for the determination of the causative agent and to complete the process of desensitization, it is advisable that susceptible persons report to their physicians in late winter or early spring.

FISH STORY

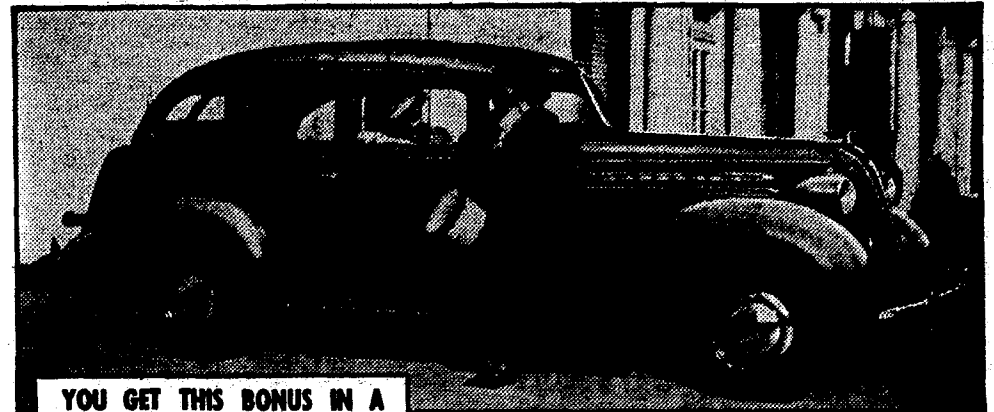

It may be a fish story, but technical assistant Joe Godfrey of CCC Camp AuSable insists it has the saving grace of being a good one.

Enrollees of Camp AuSable under Mr. Godfrey's direction have been engaged in a series of construction and improvement projects at the Department of Conservation's Grayling Fish Hatchery for several months. Following the noon lunch, it has been the custom of the CCC boys to feed crumbs and remnants of their lunches to the fish in an adjacent stream.

"Don't bite the hand that feeds you," is a slogan unknown to the trout, or at least not respected by them, Godfrey now reports. For the trout have become so tame that they not only eat from the fingers of the enrollees, but on frequent occasions have nipped the unprotected fingers.

The trout are not hatchery fish, but are in protected waters. Mr. Godfrey's crew is now building rustic bridges at the Hatchery.

SPARK PLUGS PLAY IMPORTANT PART

The spark plug may seem to be an insignificant bit of equipment, but it plays a mighty important part in making the car run smoothly and economically. As Nels Corwin, of the Corwin Auto Sales, Hudson and Terraplane dealer here, says: "Spark plugs can make an 'old plug' out of your car, or keep it as fit as a race horse."

"If the spark plugs are kept clean, with the points properly adjusted, a sweet-running motor will result, providing the rest of the car is in shape mechanically," said Mr. Corwin, "but if they are neglected, then excessive gas consumption and even a 'bucking' motor may be looked for."

"Poor acceleration, misfiring, spark knock or pre-ignition, hard starting and engine overheating are a few of the conditions that may be attributed to neglect in the care of the plugs."

"Spark plugs should be cleaned periodically, for any plug will become at least partially fouled with long service. Fouling consists in coating the firing tip of the porcelain to an extent which makes it easier for the high tension ignition current to pass along the porcelain to the shell than it is to spark across the gap between the electrodes. It may be caused by excessive oil in the combustion chamber or by continuous operation at low speeds or long periods of idling the engine."

Mr. Corwin stressed the importance of spark plug maintenance from a standpoint of safety. "With safety being stressed more than ever," he said, "it is important that every motorist keep his car in the best of driving condition, and a car that is slow to accelerate, due to fouled plugs, cannot be termed a 'safe' car."

ORNAMENTAL TREES

A bulletin that will be of interest to landscape gardeners and to students of Michigan nature has been published by the extension division of Michigan State College, East Lansing. Entitled "Ornamental Trees," it contains descriptions and illustrations of trees which thrive in Michigan and are admirable for ornamental purposes. It can be obtained by writing the Bulletin office for extension bulletin No. 160.

CAMP AUSABLE

Landmarks on North Branch Destroyed by Fire

Mrs. Anderson's place, which used to be known as the Frazer place, burned down Monday evening. Enrollees from Camp Ausable formed into volunteer fire fighters but were unable to save the place. This log cabin was built in 1884.

New Board Walks

All Camp Ausable lacks to compete with Atlantic City is a beach. The camp has its new board walk, which is eight feet wide and connects all the buildings. This walk does a great deal in helping to keep up the neat appearance of the camp.

Red Cross Senior Lifesaver

Lt. Wolcott, junior officer at Camp Ausable, has returned from the National Red Cross Swimming School held at the Culver Military Academy in Indiana. He received his certificate and is now qualified as a life saver. He also received a nice case of sunburn.

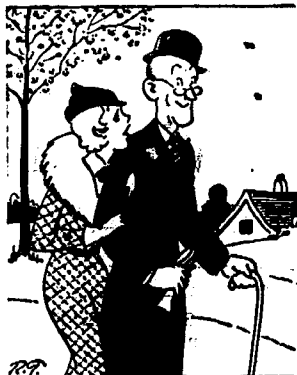

Visitors At Camp

Persons who visited camp last week were: Mrs. H. Raymor and daughter, of Ionia; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Helm, of Flint; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sanborn, of Otisville; Mrs. Rath of Bryan, Ohio, and Wesley J. Reynolds, of Alpena, who was formerly a member of Camp Ausable.

The boys who work at the fish hatchery fell into the habit of feeding bread crumbs to the fish during the noon hour, and finally got them so well trained they would come to the surface and eat out of hand. But they would not learn to leave the boys' fingers alone, and several of the lads have been painfully nipped.

What S. Cobb Thinks about

Self-Anointed Leaders

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.

—Only eight years ago Bishop Cannon sat in high state at Houston, wringing the last drop of moisture out of a bone-dry plank in the Democratic doctrine so Al Smith, the wettest of the wets, would have something congenial and appropriate to run on.

In the opposition camp the politico-financial high god, to whose lightest word all present responded with hails and hal-lalujahs, was Banker Charles Mitchell. Today, if either of these gentlemen inserted himself into a national convention of his party, he'd be arrested for trespass.

Four years ago Mr. Hearst was moving heaven and earth and Jack Garner to nominate F. D. Roosevelt, in whom he reposed everlasting faith. And the Republican Old Guard was explaining that when its candidate had promised two cars in every garage he didn't figure that for either car there'd be a deputy sheriff with a writ.

All of which proves our anointed leaders are not only courageous but consistent. Well, let's see what the boys will promise us this year in those national whimsicalities called platforms.

WE'VE been skirting the sun-baked domains of one sizable group of early American families who don't care who's been nominated at Cleveland or who'll be nominated at Philadelphia. No matter which side wins, these folks still will furnish the raw material upon which the amateurs of the Indian bureau work weird experiments in the name of civilization.

Nothing worse can happen to them than already has been wrought by well-meaning meddlers and earnest muddlers under this administration or that. For instance, trying to make farmers out of Apaches, a task akin to training caged hen-hawks to imitate cuckoo clocks.

Of course, should their reservations by some miracle prove productive, the white man will crowd them over into a remoter thirst-blasted area, where a horned toad would have to go on relief or else starve to death.

The vanishing American can't complain that we've ever failed to expedite his vanishing act for him.

Beating the Welkin.

THE poor old welkin certainly took an awful beating at Cleveland, didn't it? And just about the time the new skin forms, they'll rip it all over again at Philadelphia. Language is to a national convention what yelping is to a coon dog trailing. It's a fine personal advertisement for the dog and doesn't mean anything either way to the coon.

The old superstition that the Republicans always pick their candidate at 2 a. m. "in a smoke-filled room" didn't come true. You'd think the bosses would emerge from the session looking like so many hickory-cured hams when you hear people tell of the old times. I'll bet the G. O. P. boys kept a window open to clear the air. It might also have come in handy for chucking Senator Borah out of.

But when the credentials committee sat to hear the contesting delegations from the deep, dark South—that's when you'd see what properly might be called a smoke-filled room.

Defying the Congress.

THREE years ago Bishop Cannon, the famous Virginia smooth-brow, invited a senatorial investigation committee to go jump off the Washington monument. Perhaps they didn't jump off the monument, which caused regret to some, but it was the best offer they had all season.

This year Doctor Townsend, who hasn't lost a cent by being the head of the Townsend plan, tells an investigating committee of the house to kiss his foot.

They never punished the bishop for contempt, although they sputtered like a bunch of damp fire-crackers. Here's laying a little eight-to-five they'll never punish the Doc, either. He'll go merrily on with the ever-popular idea that, if there isn't a pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow, the government should supply same without any more of this shilly-shallying.

Next to the League of Nations, nothing seems to make so much noise and accomplish so little as a defied congress—unless it is a fellow playing a slide trombone into an empty barrel.

As We See It Up In the Sticks

CASTLES IN THE AIR

Election year is here again, with all its trials and troubles, and politicians entertain the folks by blowing bubbles and building castles in the air with glowing words and phrasing in cultured tones and croony voices delightful and amazing, relating Cinderella tales depicting coming glories of days when no one has to work, and other bedtime stories, and making golden promises that they will not remember when once the votes are added up one night in next November. Drugs and foodstuffs must be labeled and bank statements must be true, but there are no blue sky limits on election ballyhoo.

We are given information too extensive to describe and are fed on fairy stories, but the most of them don't jibe. We're informed by high officials times grow better every day and that prosperity is here because it's planned that way. But men lean on shovel handles from the prairies to the sea under guise of needed projects in a dire emergency and working crews build dog pounds with conveniences for Rover. Don't you think someone should tell them the emergency is over? We are told conflicting versions till we can't tell why or whether. Statements would sound more convincing if the boys would get together.

We may be short on other things but not on information. In newspapers we get reports on welfare of the nation. The mail cars bulge with literature adorned with postal franks, the ether waves are cluttered up with theorists and cranks. We hear abundant life ideas and communistic squawking, and we know no more about it than the one who does the talking. As we read or heard word pictures of new deal millennium we await with great impatience for election day to come.

We envision all the pleasures that the coming year will bring when every woman is a queen and every man a king; when all can boast of luxuries too numerous to mention and draw two hundred bucks a month in governmental pension; when none of us need worry in a land of milk and honey as governmental presses work three shifts in printing money to buy two chickens for each pot, and toast and marmalade, and when all our wants and wishes are fulfilled by federal aid.

Work will be a misdemeanor and to save will be a crime, with perpetual vacations in the good old summertime and winters spent in sunny climes with women, wine and song and two hundred bucks to squander ere the next check comes along. We shall have no cause to worry when the next installment's due because the wicked business man provides the revenue. We shall not even need to think—now wouldn't that be nice?—with so many politicians keen to make the sacrifice, and to do our heavy mental work in coming golden years, so all we'll need to cultivate is hair, between the ears.

But—thought that's most persistent dormant memory retains to disturb what in the mon folk must substitute for brains. As we vision all the glories of Utopia to come, we must lack appreciation (or perhaps we're too damned dumb); or we read of porky projects or we hear the statesmen roar, we recall that we have listened to such promises before—that bait for tillers-of-the-soil and sweaters-of-the-brow—we wonder if those promises are with the angels now.

There are statutes regulating stock and bonds and wheat and rye, but for pre-election hokum there's no limit but the sky. If we buy a ham or bacon or some other food we need somewhere attached we'll find a stamp with contents guaranteed. There are labels on drug nostrums for relief of aches and pains. But there are no pure food labels for political campaigns. So when we hear these fairy tales there's one thing to remember, that promises will pay no bills—not after next November.

PAINT LOWER STEP WHITE

Danger of tripping over dark basement steps with possibility of receiving injuries can be greatly eliminated by painting the bottom step white, according to home extension workers at Michigan State College. East Lansing. Stairways are often a hazard in the home, they say, and painting the bottom step white makes it easier to see.

FEAR IN PHILLY
Chicago.—"The Republican nomination in Cleveland and the Democratic nomination that will be made in Philadelphia will be different in one way," said John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican National committee, here. "Ours was unanimous through enthusiasm; the Democratic nomination will be unanimous through fear. There were no patronage considerations at Cleveland."

National Debt Reaches

34 1/2 Billions; Record

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Still climbing more than two dollars for every one taken in through taxes and other revenue, the New Deal a fortnight before the close of the 1936 fiscal year had skyrocketed the United States national debt to a point within a stone's throw of the 35 billion dollars which Daniel W. Bell, acting director of the budget, estimated it would be on June 30.

The actual figure, according to the treasury statement of June 15, was $34,331,355,867, another all time record high, and $13,395,297,073 more than it was when President Roosevelt took office.

The deficit for the fiscal year up to June 15 was $4,684,940,227, an increase of more than one-third over the $3,303,478,199 deficit for the same period of the preceding fiscal year.

This will be the most expensive of "three long years" of Roosevelt spending; total New Deal expenditures for the fiscal year up to June 15 were 8 billion 492 million dollars, as compared with 6 billion 864 million for a like period for the year before. Last year on June 15 the national debt stood at $28,700,415,830.

Thoughts for Posterity

Washington, D. C.—Paying at the rate of a million dollars a day, it would take more than 94 years for the United States to pay off its national debt, even if no interest were charged.

LOCALS

THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1936

E. G. Slote is the new barber at Paddy's barber shop.

Miss Blanche Wheeler is leaving today for Pinewood, where she will be employed during the resort season.

Edwin Chalk, Jr., has been dismissed from Mercy Hospital and is convalescing from an appendix operation at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. David Cook (Marguerite Denewett) are the proud parents of a 7 1/2 pound daughter who will be known as Jeanette Marie.

Ransom Murphy has secured employment at Burke's Garage and plans to remain in Grayling for the summer, instead of joining his mother at Detroit as he had planned.

Grayling Independent base ball team will cross bats with Houghton Lake next Sunday on the home lot. Game called at 2:30 o'clock. Come out and see the local aggregation in action.

The Harry Hemmingsen Post No. 1224 V. F. W., will hold a special business meeting Friday evening, June 26, at the Lyric dance hall at Higgins Lake. All members requested to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bennett are enjoying a visit from the latter's sister, Mrs. Matthew Schaefer, and daughter Bernadine, of L'Anse, Mich., who are enroute to Ann Arbor, where the latter will receive medical treatment.

Mrs. B. J. Callahan entertained ten friends of Mrs. William Aberle and Mrs. Alfred Underhill of California at dinner Tuesday evening at her home. The centerpiece for the dinner table was a bowl of rosebuds. The evening was spent visiting.

Mrs. Dewey Palmer was hostess to the ladies of the "Our Gang" club Thursday afternoon. Games were enjoyed during the afternoon and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Rudolph Feldhauser, Mrs. John Stephan, Mrs. Floyd Taylor, Mrs. Andrew Beck, and Mrs. Kollie Palling. Lunch was served.

The L. N. L. social meeting was held Wednesday evening last week at the home of Mrs. Rudolph Feldhauser. Pinocle and Pedro were enjoyed during the evening, prizes for which were awarded as follows: Pinocle, Miss Nina Lovely, first; Mrs. Floyd Taylor, consolation; Pedro, Norman Feldhauser. A very nice lunch was served.

Sorenson's have just received a brand-new hearse that is a beauty. It is built by the Henry company of Detroit, who specialize in this type of car, and it has an Oldsmobile motor. It is the newest thing in hearses with very convenient openings on both sides and the back. The interior is done in rich wine color plush.

Mrs. Sherman Neal very nicely entertained the ladies of the Bunco club at her home Thursday evening. After a pleasant evening, the ladies of the committee served a nice lunch. Prizes went to Mrs. Florence Wakeley, first; Mrs. Archie Brown, second; and Mrs. VanNatter, consolation. Guests of the club were Mrs. Russell Moshier, Miss Jean Wakelev, and Mrs. Louis Malonen. Mrs. N. VanNatter will be hostess to the club this evening.

The building occupied by the Plaza Grill, when completed, will be one of the most attractive business establishments in the city. During the past week carpenters have been busily engaged in adding a cornice roof along the side of the building facing U. S. 27. This is roofed with dark green shingles. The walls are also being covered with grey shingles and upon its completion the effect will be decidedly Colonial. The building is the property of Mrs. Hansine Hanson.

Getting kidded is putting it mildly. When this editor made the rounds of the business places Tuesday morning requesting that flags be unfurled in honor of the visit of members of the Grand Rapids Chamber of Commerce and then discovered that he was a day ahead of time, why shouldn't he expect to be kidded? Instead of arriving at 8:40 that morning, the visitors came the following morning. But the flags were in front of every business place, including the postoffice. It being the first day of the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia, the effort wasn't wasted and may be considered a friendly gesture for that event. May the Stars and Stripes forever wave!

"The Hay Loft is closed indefinitely." That is the message from its owners—Mr. and Mrs. George Skingley. This was necessary, they report, because of the condition of the roads. Road construction has been going on there ever since last year and "it's a PWA job and there is no telling when it will be finished," they say. "The road is unsafe to travel at night and people just don't come here and it is holding up our business," they say. The Hay Loft has been offering those who enjoy social dancing a pleasant and decent place to go. Good music was provided and good order preserved, and it is unfortunate that it has to be closed just at the time that the summer season is beginning.

Winifred Hamblin, of Maple Forest, is working at the James Busby home.

H. B. McDonald of Detroit has purchased the E. W. Jordan property on the river.

Miss June Morris has secured work at Cheboygan and will be there during her summer vacation.

Dr. Buck, Dr. Taylor and their wives and Byron Nichols of Lansing, spent the week end at their hunting cabin in Beaver Creek.

Burke's Garage report the sale of 157 inch Ford trucks, with Thornton tandem, to Engel Bros. of Alba, and Alva Noirof, of Gaylord.

Chaplain Connolly will give the sermon next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the worship service of the Michelson Memorial Church.

Dance at Temple theatre, Grayling, Saturday night June 27. Admission 50c; ladies free. First class music. A good time for everyone.

During Dr. C. J. Hathaway's regular monthly visit here last week, Mrs. Hathaway accompanied him and visited at the E. G. Clark home.

Charles Middleton, the radio man, parked across from the Courthouse, is doing a rushing business. He features complete overhaul job, including most parts, for $1.95.

Tony Gross has purchased the Clifford Chappel property and soon will be moving there. They sold their house to Harold Hatfield. The Chappel family are moving to Bay City.

Do you know that the annual convention of county clerks of Michigan will be held in Grayling July 7th to 9th? That time will soon be here. Let's give the town an extra scrubbing and have it dolled up special for that occasion.

The attraction of the "ole" swimmin' hole, which is located back of the M. C. roundhouse, has been greatly improved by the addition of a fine 10 ft. diving dock with springboard. The local boys have the W.P.A. workers to thank for the carpentry work.

Now Manistee is to have a National Forest Festival July 2-5 and have built a tepee town of 17 wigwams on the banks of the Manistee River. This will be the home of Ottawa Indians and families during the four-day celebration. The event is designed to restore as far as possible, the atmosphere of pioneer days when Manistee county was one of the great centers of the lumber industry. Some of the Indians have assisted in designing the village.

Miss Dorothy Swanson celebrated her 15th birthday anniversary, Friday, and her sister, Mrs. Stewart Rutledge, entertained a number of relatives and friends at her home in Roscommon that afternoon. Luncheon appointments were carried out in green and white. Dorothy received many lovely gifts. Mrs. Clarence Gross and daughter, Sally Ann; Mrs. Alex Atkinson, and son Richard, Miss Eva Swanson, and Miss Marian Skingley attended the party from Grayling.

A letter has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pankow, who are now located at California, with a very interesting account of their trip out west. They write that they had no trouble at all, not even a flat tire, and that, after leaving Illinois, they made the trip as rapidly as possible. Their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Richardson, met them at Reno, Nevada, where they spent Memorial day. Mr. and Mrs. Pankow are very favorably impressed with California and believe they will be very happy there.

Supt. and Mrs. Gerald Poor have gone to Ann Arbor, where the former will attend summer school at U. of M., doing graduate work. Anyone wishing to secure their school credits may do so by seeing Roy Milnes, secretary of the Board of education.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Peterson, who have been residing in Petoskey for the past couple of years have returned to Grayling to reside. Their household furniture arrived yesterday and they are busy getting settled. Their son Carl Jr. is at Camp Daggett, at present where he is an instructor in the boy's summer camp.

Some friends of Sheriff and Mrs. Frank Bennett gathered at their home, Saturday evening, the occasion being Mrs. Bennett's birthday anniversary. The evening was spent playing pinocle, after which a pot luck lunch was served. Mrs. Bennett was presented with a lovely gift.

Rev. and Mrs. Flory are attending the annual session of the Detroit Conference at Royal Oak. The minister of the Michelson Memorial church will preach next Sunday morning at Christ Church (M. E.), Detroit, and in the evening at Trinity M. E. Church, Highland Park.

Among the Clerks

(By J. Wellington Baumsted)

Skipper F. J. Mills is getting out the old sealings and polishing his suit in anticipation of the maiden voyage of his new cedar river boat. It is expected that he will have the launch christened by the end of the week.

Otto Peterson and Harry Sorenson proved themselves to be most excellent waiters at the Republican Rally, which was held last week. Their business cards read "Positively unheard-of wise-cracks, tastefully delivered with each meal."

Harold (Useless) Smith, formerly of the Hanson Cafe, is beginning a brilliant career as chauffeur for a Higgins Lake family and has occasionally been glimpsed rolling through our city in a mighty Cadillac.

Members of the Hanson Cafe Smart Set—Eva Mae Bugby, Eva Swanson, and Helen May, spent a hilarious week end "keeping house" at the Bates cottage, at the lake.

It seems that "Swede" Swanson, of Blackie's Tavern, and "Caesar" Koivune, of Sorenson Bros. store, prefer the Kalkaska "Amazons" to the local gals; they having made an initial visit there Sunday afternoon. Speed was painfully regulated at 30 miles per—the car being brand new. James Post, Sr., accompanied the boys over but realized that his services as chaperon were uncalled for.

If any of you are wondering about the new nonchalant waiter, who seems to be quite "settled" at the Green Front Restaurant—it's "Mud" King, who is a distant relative of the great Wayne King—only Wayne doesn't know it yet. "Mud" says their musical abilities are very closely associated.

Hazel Schrieber—Mrs. Albert Schrieber to you—is the new dishwasher at the Hanson Cafe. She is of the opinion that Birdie Bishaw is a fine poet. She says his feet show it—they're long fellows!

Norberta Wiess is a new addition to the night force of the Plaza Grill and has very nicely appropriated the rear entrance of the establishment for her public appearances.

More than a few of us are wondering if it is a new romance which guided the helm of the Hoesli Plymouth Lyric-ward on a recent Saturday night. Although we've seen the object of that masterful look about town, we're still wondering just who she is??

Maybe you didn't notice that Dorothy Reid, of the Plaza Grill, is sporting a new boy friend. He's tall, distinguished, and looks poetic and was to be seen quite regularly during the spring of the year in the region of the Court-house.

Camp Fire Notes

Humming Birds
We met at the church; there were 12 present. We have a new member, Gloria Kinnee. We had one visitor, Donna Simpson. We handed in our health charts. The losing side is going to give the winning side a secret party.

We have not had some of our meetings because of May Day and Decoration Day.

THE NEWS

If Miss String, secretary of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Tall Story Club, has a fault it is that her club reports are always tinged with sadness. To wit:

"LAST fall somebody told me I'd save gasoline if I used Standard Red Crown all the time. So, without considering the consequences, I agreed to use nothing else for a year. And just look what it got me into!

"The very first day I saved a bowl full. That was fine—it wasn't in the way at all. But look—in the first week I'd saved a barrel full! By the end of the year I'd saved a tank-car full!

"My, what a lot of gasoline to keep around the house!

"Father complained so bitterly that I had to rent a barn to store it in. And now I've got a barn full of Red Crown—and more piling up every day. I'm almost sorry I ever started."

Perhaps we should feel sorry for Miss String. But somehow we just can't bring ourselves to believe a word of her story.

We have reason to know that Standard Red Crown is an economical gasoline—but its use hardly saves that much.

Because it does have "more live power per gallon," Standard Red Crown operates a car with less waste power per gallon. What you save, in longer mileage, is well worth while over a year's time. But rather than make claims, Standard prefers to make it easy—and profitable—for motorists to find out the real facts about gasoline mileage for themselves. So, this summer Standard is conducting the most extensive road test ever attempted. You are invited to participate.

A STRONG COMPANY

Nearly every year the Holly vicinity is visited by a disastrous windstorm. It usually arrives in the spring, but two years ago it was in the late summer. In each of these blows there is a big property loss, and the numerous recurrences has taught our thrifty people that it is little short of foolhardy to try to get along without adequate and dependable insurance against loss from windstorms and cyclones. The Michigan Mutual Windstorm Insurance Co. of Hastings have paid many big claims in the Holly section, and we have yet to learn of a person who was not satisfied with the manner in which the loss was adjusted. They have a record of over 50 years of successful operation, and have nearly $400,000,000 of insurance in force in the state.

Conservative management has kept their rate among the lowest, the average for the entire life of the company being less than 7c per year on each $100. Last year they paid out $261,000 to policy holders. This is the biggest insurance company of its kind in Michigan, and they have 800 agents, several of whom are in the Holly vicinity. Their monthly ads in the Herald vividly portray some of the devastation wrought by the wind. (Published by The Holly Herald on June 11).
